

Started on IV Premarin 25mg every 6 hours or until bleeding significantly slows for a max of 48 hours

Order:

- Sequential Compression Device
- Nursing order for quantitative blood loss with pad measurement.
- Antiemetic's (Zofran prn)

Has Bleeding Slowed?

No

Gynecology re-evaluation for consideration of mechanical tamponade, surgical diagnostic, or therapeutic procedures

Yes

Transition oral medication:
Need

*When transitioning from IV Premarin patient will need long term support of progesterone based medication.

Discharge

- Patient Education Material
- Follow-up with Gynecology within 1-2 weeks.
- If patient meets high risk for bleeding disorder contact hematology and place clinic referral for follow-up.